“Being recognized by Inc. magazine is a great honor for S.A. Trucking. I never imagined that we would one day build a company that would make this prestigious list,” Michael Miqueli, S.A. Trucking's President and CEO said. “We are constantly challenged with the many issues of the trucking business and thanks to our customers and our employees we have been able to deliver, not only goods, but also on promises. We put together a business model that has set a growth path for our company. I am especially proud of our staff, they have committed to the long term vision for the company and making the Inc. 5000 absolutely solidifies our commitment.”
